

Maximizing the Farm Land

A 12,000 square foot plot of land is enough to provide a restaurant that seats 100-150 people. Different dimensions were tested in order to determine the most effective use of land.

Taking the double digging method and moving it up in scale to the size of a farm site, plots are rotated seasonally in order to prevent deterioration of the soil and to keep a substantial portion of the farm unused for future expansion.