

Food Market Distirbution

This is a look at food distribution at a local scale to how the food gets from the produces to the consumer. The overall theme of this diagram shows that little amounts come from locally grown products and even less go into local supermarkets.