Flocktown Farms concept

new york city: grid city, modular life, disconnected and cold traditional farm land layout: do they still want to drive here and pay for this? do they want to escape from a modular life into another modular life?

paris: relax, connected, a big party new farm with countryside village, release the grid life

Flocktown Farms experience

place buildings by view flow from high point to lower point, create a celebration environment for farming.

pick-up village not only has mushroom & berries farms, but also offer a quiet and hidden living area for vistors, what's more, it's a door to attract people into the flocktown farms and enjoy more.
